OUTSOURCED TESTING SERVICES

Companies worldwide need to stay competitive by improving quality of their product while reducing cost. Meanwhile,rapidly changing technology calls for constant updates and product releases adding pressure on both cost and quality. This calls for some strategic decisions in the form of outsourced product testing and quality assurance.

Considering the fact that product testing is a specialized skill and requires additional resources, testing infrastructure and training and goes through staffing troughs and peaks it is best managed by an outsourced partner.

PRONTO Outsourced Testing services ensures our customers cut cost, speed up testing, improve quality and most importantly release precious in-house resources for critical tasks.

OUR TESTING PHILOSOPHY

▷ Testing is a specialized activity to be done with due diligence; QA starts right at the requirements stage

▷ Testing requires special skills, tools and processes; invest in people and software.

▷ Focus on customer business objectives with end-user's perspective.

▷ Automate, Automate & Automate... this would save considerable time and money for the customer in long run.

▷ Defect prevention as oppose to defect detection.
